RE: Draft Export Control Bill 2017

Dear Sir/Madam,

I write regarding the Draft Export Control Bill 2017 which is currently open for consultation and follows an extensive review of the existing Export Control Act and related legislation.

Grain Trade Australia (GTA) is supportive of the draft Bill and its intent of consolidating the array of Acts, Regulations and Orders that currently govern the export of Australia's agricultural exports into a more cohesive framework for the export of Australia's agricultural products.

GTA appreciates this opportunity to make some comments on the Bill, however, recognises that many of the issues that relate specifically to the grains industry will be dealt with in development of the Rules. GTA would request that there is close consultation with the industry in relation to the Rules.

1. About GTA

Grain Trade Australia (GTA) is a national association and is the focal point for the commercial grains industry within Australia. The role of GTA is to provide a framework across Industry to facilitate and promote the trade of grain. GTA facilitates trade and works to provide an efficient, equitable and open trading environment by providing leadership, advocacy and commercial support services to the Australian grain value chain. GTA Members are responsible for over 95% of all grain storage and freight movements made each year in Australia. Over 95% of the grain contracts executed in Australia each year refer to GTA Grain Trading Standards and/or Trade Rules.

GTA has established the Australian Grains Industry Code of Practice. All GTA Members are required to adhere to the Code of Practice. GTA Members are drawn from all sectors of the grain value chain from production to domestic end users and exporters. GTA has over 270 organisations as Members. Their businesses range from regional family businesses to large national and international trading/storage and handling companies who are involved in grain trading activities, grain storage, processing grain for human consumption and stock feed milling. A list of GTA Members is attached.

2. Consultation with Trading Partners and Trade

GTA notes the engagement and consultation undertaken by the Government with Australia's trading partners and would encourage such work and approach be maintained to ensure no disruption to Australia's exports from the implementation of the new Bill.

3. Operational Rules in the Legislation

GTA notes that as part of the draft Bill a significant part of the elements and issues in relation to the operational aspects of the Legislation will be defined and included in the "Rules", which are still to be developed as part of the consultation and implementation process. GTA has noted a number of issues that would fall into the Rules and would urge the Government to ensure there is close consultation with industry around the Rules.

We also note that the Secretary of Department of Agriculture and Water Resources (DAWR) will have additional authority and autonomy to develop and implement rules in the new Legislation. While we support this from the perspective of enabling a more flexible and agile approach to Regulatory oversight, we would seek assurance that proper consultation mechanisms and processes will be either maintained (i.e. through the existing industry consultative committee) or developed (as the case may be) to ensure appropriate stakeholder engagement and that the outcomes deliver a practical approach in terms of exporting agricultural products from Australia balanced with the protective objectives of the Legislation. The Legislation must also allow and encourage best practice principles to be adopted by industry and DAWR, whilst being cost effective with clear and transparent fee for service arrangements applying to all industries.

Thus, development of the Rules will be a critically important component of the final Legislative framework, its approval through the Parliament and its implementation. As such, we would seek to be closely involved in the Industry Consultation and development of the Rules by the DAWR and implementation of the new proposed Legislation. Further, we would seek to engage with DAWR in the development of the Rules to address industry specific issues and to identify opportunities for improved and/or enhanced processes within the Act to improve productivity and efficiency for both Industry and Government.

Please see attached a list of operational issues that GTA has identified in the legislation which we would understand will be addressed through development of the Rules. This list is a starting point and other issues may arise once the draft Rules are available for review.

4. Elements of the Bill - traceability

As indicated, GTA is broadly supportive of the Bill, however, there is one element of the Act where we would seek some clarification.

This relates to the issue of DAWR receiving "improved options for demonstrating product integrity through traceability, where required by the importing country". While GTA recognises that this could be beneficial in some instances, we would seek clarification about how DAWR will balance importing country requirements, against the practicalities and realities of the grain supply chain including privacy laws and obligations of suppliers (growers) and commercial outcomes. It has been a long held position of the grains industry, and supported by the Government, that traceability only applies at the registered export premise (with this most recently reaffirmed in consideration of an International Standard for Phytosanitary Measures (ISPM) on the International movement of grain through the IPPC Standards Committee). Some markets, such as China, have sought to demand traceability and audit powers through the supply chain and to the farm. While this may be a relevant consideration for some industries such as horticulture, it is not appropriate, nor required, in the grains sector. We would seek assurance that the position on traceability currently held by the industry and Government as it relates to grain will not be impacted by the legislation and would not be changed without consultation with the industry.

5. Transitional Arrangements

We note that transitional arrangements to the new Act (should it pass Parliament) will be required and are still to be developed. GTA trusts there will be adequate consultation with Industry on these transitional arrangements and would again request to be involved in that consultation process.

6. Conclusion

To conclude, GTA is supportive of the Draft Bill and the consultation process undertaken by DAWR. We note the drafting of the Rules is still to commence, and would seek to engage with DAWR to both:

- discuss specific elements of the Act where we have identified potential risks/challenges for the grains industry; and
- identify any business or process efficiencies for Industry or DAWR, while maintaining the robustness of the Rules in ensuring the reputation of Australia's export controls is maintained.

Yours sincerely

Pat O'Shannassy
CEO

Operational issues identified that GTA proposes form part of the consultation during development of the Rules

1. Process improvement e.g. document processing, operational and business process improvements.
2. Methods for taking, testing and analysing certain samples – the grains industry has and continues to encounter issues with representative samples across a range of markets. This is a critical issue that the industry will seek to have agreed and documented in the Regulations, in particular, for containers.
3. Export of Goods - rules regarding the export of prescribed goods consider issues such as "food safety". GTA believes that in relation to statements such as "Exporting prescribed goods in contravention of conditions—contravention involving economic consequences or damage to Australia's trading reputation", there are some ambiguous scenarios or grey areas that may arise that require clarification as to the Act's intentions, or best to address them in the Rules.
4. False or Misleading statements about Exports – require clarification in regard to how this relates to exporters signing off compliance for each shipment under industry/country specific protocols such as the Wheat/Barley Industry Management Plan for China.
3. Return of government certificate – while the Act states the Government MAY require a Certificate to be returned, sometimes this cannot occur as it is impractical. Thus, require clarification in relation to the circumstances/reasons why this cannot occur in all instances.
4. Premises – maintain a definition that provides flexibility for use of different technologies/practices providing they comply with requirements.
6. Approved Arrangements – clarification that decisions already made by the grains program will stand.
7. Authorisation of Authorised Officers (AOs) – while the Act states that "The Secretary must determine, in writing, training and qualification requirements for authorised officers, but this is not a legislative requirement", the critical issues are around effectiveness of the qualifications/training of AOs e.g. especially in relation to China for grains. This requires appropriate implementation of risk assessment, training and auditing.
8. Traceability – clarification of the exporters' responsibility for traceability as the Registered Establishment may lose control of the goods beyond a certain point.
9. Definition of Prepared – this appears to have been tightened up in relation to preparing goods outside a Registered Export Facility. While in general this may be a positive move, it may have implications for some facilities e.g. bulk supply chains.
10. Trade description – a number of statements that require some clarification and/or which may result in increased costs to industry e.g. if have to re-bag rather than apply a sticker to incorrect markings.
