- GTA Members – primary contact list. Please circulate to all appropriate internal parties

Background

Communication is one of the four key areas that GTA spans. As identified in GTA's Strategic Direction 2009 document, a core role of GTA is keeping members and others informed whilst strengthening and promoting GTA's reputation through corporate, member and external communications.

The GTA website is a vital tool for communication throughout the grain industry and as such its provision of relevant, accurate and current information is continually reviewed.

New GTA website is now live

GTA is pleased to announce it has developed a new website with this in mind and it is now live.

The new website is a fully public website and you are encouraged to visit the new site to review its content. Go to: www.graintrade.org.au

If any members have bookmarked the old NACMA website address, please replace this immediately as the previous domain is no longer available.

If members encounter difficulties accessing the new website please contact GTA.
