Office of the Hon Tom Kenyon
GPO Box 11071
ADELAIDE SA 5001

Dear Minister Kenyon,

Re: FARMING CODE OF CONDUCT

Grain Trade Australia Ltd welcomes the opportunity to provide your office with feedback in relation to the draft Farming Code of Conduct (released for comment 11 September 2013).

Grain Trade Australia Ltd (GTA) is a membership-based association of the Australian grain trade. Our 261 members are the main participants in the post-farm gate grain value chain and include merchants, traders, end-users (including bakers, feed-lots and millers), bulk handlers and their service providers right around Australia. A listing of our members is annexed.

GTA and its members work closely with the production sector with state farming organisations, including Grain Producers South Australia and national organisations represented on the GTA membership list.

Our guiding principal is the facilitation of trade at all stages of the grain value chain. Our principal activities are the publication of grain trading standards (including for wheat and barley); publication of a range of standard form contracting terms and conditions; training and education, and dispute resolution.

In particular the Minister should be aware of our activities in relation to Dispute Resolution, and the Australian Grain Industry Code of Practice.

Dispute Resolution

All GTA contracts, and the GTA Trade Rules, contain a referral of disputes to the GTA Dispute Resolution Process which operates under the Commercial Arbitration Act 2010..

That process is essentially trade-based arbitration before a sole arbitrator (for smaller disputes) or a panel of 3. While we encourage resolution of disputes on documents alone and without a hearing to keep costs to a minimum, either party has the right to request that an oral-hearing be conducted.

Our panel of arbitrators is made up of members of the trade as well as a number of grain producers.

From time to time disputes have arisen between the Trade and producers. Those and other awards are published on the GTA website with the identity of the parties redacted.

It should go without saying that the GTA process is fair and impartial (so much is mandated by law, in any event) and has withstood several challenges through the Courts.

We would encourage your office to view the Dispute Resolution pages on our website at http://www.graintrade.org.au/dispute_resolution

Australian Grain Industry Code of Practice

Over the last several years, GTA has worked closely with the Federal Government in the development of the Australian Grain Industry Code of Practice.

The latest version of that Code (which will be mandatory for GTA members from 1 July 2014) includes a complaints procedure under which interested 3rd parties (including producers) can refer a complaint relating to a breach of the Code of Conduct by a GTA member to a disciplinary Tribunal whose powers will include directing rectification of the breach, and cancellation of membership.

We would encourage your office to review the Code of Practice on our website at <http://www.graintrade.org.au/grain-industry-codes>.

Feedback on the Farming Code

As we hope we have been able to demonstrate in the course of this short submission, through the efforts of GTA and its membership, the Australian grains industry is largely self-regulating, and effectively so, particularly in relation to contractual disputes and complaints about the conduct of members.

The grains industry is one of the few sectors of Australian agribusiness for which this can be said.

While we share the Minister's desire to provide a fast, informal and cost-effective channel for the resolution of disputes involving producers, we believe that GTA is currently providing that service at least for the grains industry and there is some risk of overlap between the Farming Code and GTA processes which is not in the interests of any party.

It would be unfortunate if grain producers in South Australia confused the Farming Code with the Australian Grain Industry Code of Practice, or misunderstood the effect of the Farming Code and felt that it somehow relieved them of their obligations under the GTA Dispute Resolution Rules and the Commercial Arbitration Acts.

Confidentiality of Disclosures

If the Minister wishes to proceed to make the Farming Code binding on the grains industry, we are concerned about the disclosure requirements under Clause 4 (4) and the adequacy of the protections given under Clause 4 (11).

It is important for both parties that any alternative dispute resolution procedure conducted by the Commissioner or Authorised Officer be conducted along the same lines as mediation so that anything done and any information or documents produced under Clause 4 are to be treated as confidential and cannot be disclosed or relied on outside the process.

Conclusion

We welcome and endorse the Minister's initiative to provide an efficient and informal dispute resolution mechanism for South Australian farmers. For the reasons stated above, we believe that the GTA processes currently meet that need at least for the grain's industry.

We look forward to working with the Minister in refining the proposed Farming Code.

Yours faithfully

Geoff Honey
CEO
